

Happy February, Flyers and Friends!

February may be short, but even during this abbreviated month in the heart of winter, there's plenty going on at Lewis University! From athletic games and alumni gatherings to a highly anticipated Black History Month author visit. This month's Jet-setter is full of great info. Thanks for staying connected and being part of what makes Lewis so special. Happy early Valentine's Day, especially to our Lewis Sweethearts!

CAMPUS NEWS

Dr. Jamil Mustafa Publishes Chapter in Book on Disability, Illness, and the Vampire

A chapter by Dr. Jamil Mustafa, professor of English Studies, has been published in Disability, Illness, and the Vampire in Literature and Culture (Routledge, 2025). "Vampirism and/as Mental Illness: 'Martin' and 'The Transfiguration'" focuses on George A. Romero's "Martin" (1977) and Michael O'Shea's "The Transfiguration" (2016), two films in which vampirism seems psychological rather than supernatural. To demonstrate how these films draw and blur the line between vampirism and mental illness, the chapter employs Jacques Derrida's theory of deconstruction, which moves beyond binary oppositions, including sane/insane, an antithesis vital to canonical vampire tales. Following their fictional antecedents, "Martin" and "The Transfiguration" question the sanity of both vampires and vampire hunters. In so doing, these films deconstruct the relationship between mental and physical disability, and that between fact and fiction.

62nd New Employee Mission Orientation Workshop & Commissioning Service

In January, Lewis hosted its 62nd Mission Orientation Workshop & Commissioning Service and welcomed approximately 50 new colleagues into our University community. This workshop on our Lasallian, Catholic Mission is offered twice a year and continues to be one of the most energizing and meaningful experiences shared with new employees. The team of presenters included Dr. Kurt Schackmuth, Brother Phil Johnson, FSC, Fr. Paul Novak, OSM, Dr. Maryellen Collett, Dr. Dominic Colonna, Dr. Shireen Roshanravan, and Margaret Martinez.

Delta Sigma Pi President, Marc Kirby Attends Presidents Academy in St. Louis in January

"Had a great experience this weekend attending Presidents Academy in St. Louis with Delta Sigma Pi. The past few days were filled with leadership workshops, open discussions, and conversations with chapter presidents from across the country—a lot of focus on communication, accountability, and what it actually takes to build a strong and sustainable organization."

Lewis DPT Program Doctors Contribute to Publications

Lewis DPT's Dr. Arvie Vitente is a co-author of Chapter 33 ("Electromyography & Electrical Stimulation") in Umphred's Neurological Rehabilitation (8th edition), helping advance evidence-based neurorehab education and practice. In addition, Dr. Vitente, Dr. Rob Sweet, and Dr. Michael Maninang are contributing authors in the Philippine Journal of Physical Therapy, Volume 4, Issue 3, contributing an editorial, original research, and commentary, advancing physical therapy education and practice.

New Nursing & Pharmacy Technician Labs at St. Augustine College at Lewis University

In January, a ribbon-cutting celebration of the new Nursing and Pharmacy Technician Labs at St. Augustine College at Lewis was held. This milestone reflects Lewis' mission in action, connecting students to in-demand job opportunities through hands-on, purpose driven learning, rooted in service and excellence.

Meet a Flyer

Mason Piscitelli,
Aviation Flight
Student

"A few weeks ago, I had the opportunity to officially join the Republic Airways team and was able to complete my RJet Ambassador training at the Republic Training Center in Carmel, Indiana. While I was there, in addition to my training, I was also able to tour our MX hangar the Indianapolis airport and even fly the E170 in the full motion sim! Starting this month, I will be serving as our Lewis campus ambassador for Republic Airways and will educate students about our cadet program and the pathway to becoming a First Officer. I am so excited for this opportunity and am grateful to everyone at Republic who made this possible!"

Third Annual Winter Welcome Fair

On Wednesday, January 28, Lewis Student Engagement hosted its Third Annual Winter Welcome Fair in the Fieldhouse, where new and returning students had the opportunity to connect with student organizations and clubs, and learn how to get more involved.

Mountainfilm on Tour at Lewis University

On the evening of Saturday, January 31, a curated program of short documentary films that debuted at the Telluride Film Festival, were shown in the Brother Damian Auditorium as part of Mountainfilm on Tour at Lewis University. The event, attended by Lewis alumni and friends, began with a reception in the Courtyard Cafe. Then guests proceeded to the theater to watch two blocks of films with an intermission in between. The ten films shown showcased for example, stories of the first women dory captains on the Colorado River, a rock-climbing program in Memphis that is transforming the lives of young people in an underserved neighborhood, and a pair of extreme heli-skiers taking on the Chugach Range in Cordova, Alaska, just to name a few.

Thanks to all who joined us!

Every Lewis University alum is a member of the Lewis Alumni Association. If you would like more information about how you can get involved as a volunteer in the classroom, as a mentor, on social, etc., please contact Brandon McGhee '08 '10 at mcgheebr@lewisu.edu.

ALUMNI NEWS

Rachel Stella '13 (Mass Communications) married Dante Frustini May 10, 2025 at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Rockdale, Illinois. Congratulations and God's blessings on Rachel and Dante!

Congratulations to Erin Vandermore, LCMHC-S '02, who will be receiving the Innovation/Creativity in Counseling Award at the North Carolina Counseling Association (NCCA) conference this February. Erin is a licensed therapist in Western North Carolina and is the founder of "Mind Circuit," a mental wellness app that uses science-based bilateral stimulation tools and micro practices to help reduce anxiety, calm the nervous system, and build daily regulation habits. Erin also has a new podcast, "Notes to My Nervous System," down-to-earth, gentle conversations about stress, safety, and resilience. Erin also has recently had a new book published, "Wired to Heal," a practical, science-informed guide for everyday nervous system care and trauma-aware living. This book can be purchased through Amazon at: <https://a.co/d/ft8w2fw>

IN THEIR OWN WORDS

Ryan Cunningham '19

"I graduated from Lewis in 2019 with a degree in Environmental Science. I'm currently the Recreation & Education Program Director at Double J Riding Club, where I design and oversee hands-on educational and recreation programs for children and families. My work blends environmental education, community programming, and staff leadership, drawing on experiences from camps, zoos, and informal learning environments. My time at Lewis University played a major role in shaping my path, particularly through the mentorship and support of Dr. Kavouras. His guidance and encouragement helped me build confidence in applying environmental science beyond the classroom and reinforced my passion for experiential, community-based learning, something I continue to use every day in my career."

Allison Brandle Timm '17

"My name is Allison Timm, and I graduated with a Bachelor's degree in Biology from Lewis and a Master's degree in Respiratory Care Therapy from Rush University. I am currently a Respiratory Therapy Supervisor at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, MN. I also developed a Respiratory Residency program for newly hired RTs to provide mentorship, a structured/detailed orientation, and focus on emotional/professional development. I work with all patient populations in general care and critical care environments. What I really loved during my time attending Lewis University was the support always available and provided. I would not have found this profession without the great help and advice from the advisors who helped me along the way."

Mateo Diaz '21

"I work as the Lead Microbiologist in an in-house laboratory for a personal care products company, supporting products such as shampoo, conditioner, hand soap, and body wash. My primary responsibilities include microbiological quality control testing of finished goods and raw materials to ensure product safety and compliance. I also oversee environmental monitoring within the manufacturing facility, including managing microbial control of the water system and verifying facility and equipment cleanliness through ATP surface swabbing. As a Biology major at Lewis, I gained a strong foundation in laboratory techniques that prepared me well for my current career in Quality Control. During my time at Lewis, I had initially planned to pursue postgraduate studies in the medical field. I never considered lab work as a future career option until I was invited to conduct research with Dr. Kavouras. I earned my bachelor's degree in biology in 2021, and nearly five years later, my fondest memories of my time there come from the collaborative research experiences I shared with my peers and our mentor, Dr. Kavouras."
